Electronic Classified Material (Computers, hard drives, CDs etc.) is properly marked with the appropriate classification, using color codes and SF 700 series stickers.

(2) All classified correspondence inboxes are properly marked for holding classified materials. This will prevent the inadvertent intermingling of classified materials with unclassified materials.

(3) Classified materials are properly secured at the end of day and when leaving the immediate area. Classified material will not be left unattended for any reason.

c. The transportation of classified material out of designated work spaces is approved by the 2d MAW Security Manager.

d. All 2d MAW personnel entering and exiting Bldg 1 must use the back lobby entrance except for personnel who are authorized access through the ceremonial entrance. All other doors of Bldg 1 are for emergency exit use only.

(1) He/she checks in and out with the Command Duty Officer (CDO).

(2) Access to all workspaces (e.g. vaults, secure rooms, security containers and safes) is properly documented and secured. This includes the requisite documentation on the SF 702 and the SF 701 at the conclusion of the work day.

f. All classified material is accounted for by the Classified Material Control Center (CMCC). The only exceptions are working papers that have less than 180 days since their original creation. All working papers passing the 180 day limit must be turned in to the CMCC for control and accountability. All transfer or destruction of classified material, to or from a section, must be coordinated with the CMCC.

a. All SIPRNET users must have a minimum of an Interim Secret clearance and a "need-to-know" to access the SIPRNET.

b. While utilizing SIPRNET the user will ensure the area is secure. This includes closing the window blinds and locking the dead-bolt on all doors leading to the room in closed storage areas.

c. Users will not leave SIPRNET computers unattended in any area that is not approved for open storage.

d. Ensure IT maintenance personnel from outside the unit are properly identified before they begin work on any SIPRNET information system. These individuals should be escorted and continuously monitored during maintenance. If an individual does not have proper identification and their credentials cannot be confirmed, do not allow them access to controlled areas.

e. In closed storage areas, ensure each Protective Distribution Systems (PDS) box has an SF 702 (enclosure(2) attached to the box or wall. This form must be filled out daily and each time the box is opened or secured.
